FRIDAY, May 13-6 P. M. Wall street and its vicinity were in an excited state again to-day, over the various rumors and despatches from the seat of war. Stock operations and the fluctuations in gold seemed to command but very little attention, and the transactions in all classes of business were to consequence comparatively light. Letter from Captain Billings, of the TO THE EDITOR OF THE BERALD.

New York, May 13, 1864.

Since my arrival here on the 3d instant from Loudon, my attention has been called to a publication of charges made by the commander of the bark Columbia, from Palermo 17th of January last, which reflects upon me severally.

severely.

His states that on the 17th of February last his ship was leaking badly; that, seeing the steamer Cella, he ran close to and spoke her, but could gerne reply; that he was within one mile of her for two hours, with his cusing annual down, until it blew to rage, yet the steamer ran away and left him.

I wish to deny most emphatically ever having seen anything of the bark Columbia. Her communater has either made a mistake, or size he asserts a positive untruth.

NEWS FROM MEXICO.

The Piight of Vidauret Confirmed-Chapter of Atrocities, &c.

HAVANA, May 7, 1864.
The British steamer from Yera Cruz arrived this morning at a very unfortunate. ing at a very unfortunate bo x for me; for I cannot pos-sibly arrange the news in the form I would wish, having now but a very little while wherein to write.

There is nothing important from the State of Oajaoa; so that Diaz has not yet been disturbed by the expedition which was proparing to drive him out.

In Michoncan, the French papers say, the Juarisis are fighting among themselves. Berriozabal, lately abandoned by his friends in that State, is on his way to Saltillo, to join Juarez.

Uraga is still in Jalisco, threatening Guadalajara, organ izing his army and issuing manifestos.

A French officer, writing from Guadalajars on the 10th ult., says:—"I have returned full of disgust and indignation. We have just accomplished, not a military expedi tion, but a walk through ruins and dead men's bones. The enemy robs, sacks, fires, and will not fight. Wherever he goes he robs, or destroys what he cannot carry off, forces the inhabitants to enlist in his bands, and, when the unfortunates rofuse, cuts their throats. On the readside we found groups of men hanged or the unfortunates refuse, cuts their throats. On the roadside we found groups of men hanged or burned in some places I counted as many as thirty. Even women and children have not escaped punishment. On reaching a farm near Culsillos (State of Zacatecas) a horrible spectacle awaited us. On the outer wait of the chipel was hanging the maked body of a woman, risped open, a shapeless and bloody mars wainging at her feet. The ingers had made the unborn offsyring share the mother's dom—the child was suspended by the umbilities condition. This letter has been seat, in a circular, to all the cities and towns of Mexico by Gen. Bazune. No doubt it will go to Furope, where it will certainly not increase the sympathy for the cause of Juarez.

The light of Vidaurri is confirmed, and explained to some extent by the non-appearance of the expected his from Mejia, who, it seems, was obliged to fail back towards San Luis in consequence of a report that Ortega was threatening that city. It is said that the vote in the States of Coabuila and New Leon being about to be announced as largely in favor of the empire, Deblado, Cortinss and others made energetic efforts to collect troops from all quarters, and tearched them upon Monterey, upon which Vidaurri, finding himself threatened by largely superior forces, suddenly loft that city on the 26th of March, and fled towards the non-hern frontier, accompanied by his son and a few friends. Whatever tro-ps he had had became demoralized and disbanded themselves. His son-in-law, an American, named Milos, was pretty roughly treated by the Juariets under Antillon, on their entry into Monterey. The United States Consul interfered to protect him.

The usual list of new adoesions to the empire appears in the papers. Among them is the city of Zoctecas. The railroad from Vera Cruz to the capital is progressing rapidly towards completion.

In the capital nothing is talked of but the approaching picty towards completion.

In the capital nothing is talked of but the approaching arrival of the new according, and preparations for their reception continue uninterruptedly. We in Havana also keep an eye open for the same important event.

NEWS FROM THE BAHAMAS.

Movements of the Blockade Running Fleet-Chase of the Tristam Shandy by The steamship Corsics, Captain Le Messurier, from Nassau 9th inst., arrived at this port yesterday.

Nassau papers to the 7th inst. are received, but con

the lat inst for Wilmington, but was chased for fourteen bours by the gunboat Rhode Island, but managed to escape by darkness coming on. She reached Nassau on the 5th of May, and saited again on the 7th. She was obliged to throw overboard considerable cargo to escape.

The intelligence which the rebol Coinel Lamb transmitted from Wilmington to the rebol Secretary of the Mayy, to the effect that the pirate Florida had "saink the United States steamer Hunsville and another gunboat," turns out, like most of the rebol news, to be a pure invention.

At quarter past one o'clock, confident of superior speed, the little Tristam endeavored to get outside the atranger, and continue her course to St. John. All doubt as to the character of the other vessel was now destroyed by the sight of the "Stars and Stripes" at her masthead, and it seem became evident that she was snything but a despicable opponent, for her clever manageware enabled her to get our friend within range of her gans.

The cruiser at once commenced a vicious fire of round shot, to which the saucy little Tristam replied by hoisting her colors and making the beat of her way out or range. But this was not such an easy matter. The cruiser managed to keep well up, and sustained a raild fire of round shot, in splendid line, but fortunately with too much (or as our friends on board thought, just sufficient) elevation. At two P. M. the shot came not only nearer, but thicker, and occasionally a shrapnel shell burst overhead, then came a round shot, which struck so near that the spray fell on the deck, after which lively incident the order was given to throw cargo over and lighten the ship. The engine room department worked unlike negroes. Every one on board did his utmost.

A speed of thirteen and a balf knots was maintained, and still they faultee keet up, a metimes gaining, sometimes losling, but always within range, and still thundering away savagely with shot and shell. Sometimes the former would cross half a mile ahead of the little steamer.
